Budgeting for extra summer fun

Summer is a time for fun and treats, but make sure you have a set budget for extras to keep from overspending. Here are a few categories to think about. If you had $100 to spend on extras this summer, use the chart to decide how much to set aside for these categories.

Extra item	Expense
Admission tickets - water parks, movies, or zoos
Summer toys - bubbles, floaties, water guns, water balloons.
Treats - snow cones, ice cream, or popcorn on movie nights
Souvenirs on trips
TOTAL ($100 or less)

Beat summer boredom with these board games to learn money management skills.

Try The Game of Life, Monopoly, or Pay Day to learn money skills. For simpler games, play bingo using coins or setting up a "store" with toys to practice how to shop and spend wisely.
